

Faculty Team Award

Awarded to each member of a team of two or more faculty that has made an outstanding contribution to research, teaching, and/or extension, either directly or indirectly, related to agriculture and related disciplines. Please note that "teams" comprised of one faculty member and his/her graduate students, do not qualify for this award.

Nomination Procedures:

1. A primary nomination letter (2-page maximum) that includes a brief description of the team and a good overview of the team's activities and the impact of their efforts on agriculture and/or its related fields.
2. One to three supporting letters from colleagues or other professionals who are not members of the team. If a Department Head does not write the primary nomination letter, a letter from at least one Department Head of one of the team members should be included as one of the supporting letters.
3. Up to six letters from students, clients, and/or non-faculty stakeholders should be included and reflect evaluations of the team activities.
4. An abbreviated vita for each team member (2-page maximum).
5. A narrative (2-page maximum) describing the work and accomplishments of the nominated team, including such things as a description of program components, products developed, audiences reached, major impacts and significance of the efforts to agriculture and/or its related fields. This narrative should relate only the teamwork of the group of faculty being nominated. It should not include the accomplishments of individual members that were done independently of the team.

All nomination packets are due by the close of business on October 23, 2009.
